NEW CHARGE FOR BAUBLITS

PROSECUTOR CHANGES IT TO SECOND DEGREE MURDER.

PRELIMINARY WAIVED

Deputy Game Warden Gives $5,000
Bond, Awaiting Trial at April
Term of Court.

Second degree murder charges were filed today against Loren H. Baublits of Graham, and the charges of manslaughter were dismissed by G. P.
Wright, prosecuting attorney.

Baublits was found by a coroner's jury to have fired a shot from a revolving pistol which caused the instant death of Henry Burchett of St. Joseph, near the Bethany Christian Church, January 22.

Preliminary hearing in the justice of peace court of Judge Joseph H.
Saylor was waived by W. A. Blagg,
representing Baublits, at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Baublits gave $5,000 bond, with his father, J. H. Baublits, near Graham, as surety, and bound over to the April term of the circuit court.

The preliminary hearing on the manslaughter charges, set for Thursday this week, was dismissed by the action of the prosecutor today in filing the second degree murder charge, which, upon conviction, carries a penalty of not less than ten years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The information filed against Baublits charged him with "feloniously, premeditated, on purpose and of his malice aforethought," shooting off a revolving pistol loaded with gunpowder and leaden bullets at Henry Burchett, which caused a mortal wound
and the instant death of Burchett.

It will be just a year ago in April that Thomas Ashbrook was found guilty of second degree murder and sentenced to forty years in the penitentiary by a jury in the circuit court of Nodaway county.

Sell 615 Licenses at C. of C. Office

161 Tags Sold Saturday.—Rain Cuts
Sale Today but Some Come
From a Distance.

The total sale of state owners and truck licenses has reached 615, with receipts amounting to $7,125. The Chamber of Commerce was kept busy all day Saturday, handling many out-of-town purchasers. One hundred and sixty-one tags were sold, which was seven less than the sale for the first day.

The sale today is being cut below the average by the rain, which makes the roads too muddy for many motorists to get in. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the sale for the day registered twenty-five owners' licenses and three truck.
Despite the weather handicap, there were four applicants for tags from Stanberry and one from Albany.

way Association Aid Organization in Andrew County.

at the Clay Center School, Andrew County, Friday night, when more than twenty men in that vicinity joined the organization.

A membership of forty is expected.
It was stated Saturday by C. L. Wells, Maryville, secretary-treasurer of the Nodaway county association, who, with Don Groves, Graham, went to the Clay Center school to help in organizing the association. C. W. Peterson was made director of the organization in the Clay Center district.

TOWNSHIPS TO NAME CHOICE

COMMITTEE SUGGESTS THEY SELECT OWN DELEGATE.

MEETINGS ON FEB. 17

Democrats Then Will Hold County Convention on February 18 to Pass on Whole Delegation.

Delegates from Nodaway county to the Democratic state convention at St.
Joseph, Feb. 28, will be selected in a new way, if the recommendation of the Democratic county committee, at its meeting Saturday afternoon, is carried out.

The committee suggested that each township at its township meeting recommend a delegate from that township to the state convention, as each township outside of Polk will be entitled to one delegate. Polk will be entitled to four delegates and these will be selected at the Polk meeting.

By this new method, every township in the county will be represented on the county delegation to the state convention. Township meetings are to be held on February 17 to select the delegates to the county convention and to recommend their delegates to the state convention. The county convention then is to be held on Saturday, February 18.
The county convention can either reject or approve the delegates as selected by the various townships. The county is entitled to eighteen delegates to the state convention.

The suggestion for this new method was offered by Clyde Perkins of Barnard, who attended the committee meeting Saturday with the proxy of John Tullock.

Resolutions on the death of Charles McCaffrey, chairman of the county committee, were drafted by a committee composed of Mrs. C. P. Fryer, Maryville; S. E. Brown, Hopkins; and Mr.
Perkins. The county committee adopted the resolutions. They will be presented to the county convention on Feb.
18. They are:

"Whereas, the Democratic County
Central Committee feels that it has sustained a great loss in the death of the Honorable Charles F. McCaffrey, it has appointed the undersigned to prepare and present to the County Convention of Nodaway County, a resolution, fittingly expressing the esteem the committee and the people of the county held for Mr. McCaffrey.

"We therefore present the following resolution:

"We, the Democrats of Nodaway County, Missouri, in county convention assembled, hereby resolve that in the death of the Honorable Charles F. Mc-Caffrey, the people of the county have lost an honorable and efficient citizen, whose thought and endeavor was to make better conditions in our county.

"That the Democratic party has lost
a good and faithful officer and advisor,
and one who was willing to sacrifice
himself for his party and by all honorable means of endeavor, to work for its success, believing in its principles and ideals."

Candy Stolen From the Sweet Shoppe

Mr. and Mrs. C. Mulkey of Atchison, Kan., who arrived here Saturday night
to take charge of the Missouri Sweet Shoppe, on North Main street, found that some persons had entered the building that night and took two boxes
of candy.

The wrappings from the candy boxes were found strewn on the floor. The shop was opened for business today.

Mr. Mulkey said that somebody evidently had a key to the building.

ELVIS NELSON TRIAL BEGINS

CASE TRANSFERRED HERE FROM GENTRY COUNTY.

BURGLARY IS CHARGED

Legal Tilt Expected When State Attempts to Have Convict Tell of Alanthus Robbery.

Elvis Nelson of near Alanthus, Gentry county, went on trial in circuit court here today, charged with breaking into the Alanthus Produce Company
the night of July 25, 1927, and stealing nine sacks of flour, valued at $19.80,
and twenty-seven dozen eggs, valued at $5.40.

The case was brought here on a change of venue from Gentry County.
The state is represented by George P.
Adams, prosecutor of Gentry county, and George P. Wright, prosecutor of Nodaway county.

Nelson is being defended by C. E.
Ernst and C. W. Allen, attorneys of Allany, and Bruce Dubois, Grant City attorney. The defense waived its right of outlining its case before the jury before witnesses were called to the stand.

The defense scored when the court sustained an objection preventing the prosecuting attorney from outlining for the jury certain evidence which it proposes to elicit from Jacob Cogdill, who is serving a term in the penitentiary and against whom charges still are pending in Gentry county.

A legal tilt is expected when the State attempts to place Cogdill on the stand. Cogdill recently was brought here from the prison at Jefferson City by Sheriff L. B. Campbell. Besides Nelson, Ed Bell and Cogdill were charged with the burglary and larceny. The State claims that the Produce Company was entered by a window, the flour and eggs taken away by means of an automobile and found at the Nelson home.

The morning session of court was taken up in selection of a jury. Two motions by the defense, one to suppress the search warrant and another to quash
the information, were overruled.

The jury selected to hear the case is composed of Fred Daniels, John Luke, Ed Cummins, William Linebaugh, Ollie
Brett, Claude Wohlford, D. W. Davis,
C. A. Turpin, Lehman Hansen, George
Westfall, Ab Merceer and Harry Wells.
Sam Baker, manager of the Produce Company, was the first witness called.

Three Hurt, Two Cars Damaged in Collision

Okley Belcher, Albert Hubbard and Mrs. O. M. Watkins Suffer Minor Injuries in Accident South of Maryville.

Okley Belcher, son of Mr. and Mrs.
James Belcher, Cecil Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hubbard and Mrs.
O. M. Watkins were injured in an automobile accident which occurred on the paving south of Maryville, near the Scudder school, about 11 o'clock
Saturday night.

The youths were driving a Ford car behind a Buick, both going south on the paving. Neither of these cars, it was said, had lights on because of the heavy mist. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins were coming toward Maryville in a Dodge coupe. When the lights of Mr.
Watkins' car appeared, the operator of the Buick turned on his lights and the Ford started to go around the Buick
at the same time.

The Ford had just drawn about even with the Buick when the driver saw Mr. Watkins' car approaching. The driver of the Ford turned to the east toward the ditch at the side of the highway, but not before the front of the Watkins' car had bumped into the rear of the Ford and turned it over in the ditch. Mrs. Watkins received a minor injury to her knee. The two boys were badly shaken up, bruised
and scratched.

Both cars were badly damaged.

SENATE GETS WICKERSHAM

RETAINED TO PROSECUTE RO-BERT M. STEWART.

NOT TO ASK A DELAY

Hearing on Refusal of Oil Magnate
to Answer Teapot Dome Senate Committee Will Be Tomorrow.

Washington, Feb. 6.—George W.
Wickersham, president of the American Bar Association, chosen to represent the Senate in the habeas corpus hearing of Robert W. Stewart, oil magnate, tomorrow, will be ready to proceed at that time.

It was announced today that Wickersham, Attorney General in the Taft cabinet, will not seek a delay to study the case, arising from Stewart's refusal to give all details wanted by the Teapot Dome investigators concerning the $3,000,000 Continental oil deal of 1921.
Senator Walsh of the Teapot Dome committee expressed gratification today at obtaining Wickersham, regarded generally as one of the nation's most prominent attorneys.

Meantime, George Cook, representing Stewart, announced that Jesse Adkins, head of the District of Columbia bar association, and John Barnett, Denver Democratic leader, had been retained
to act for Stewart.

Charge to Grand Jury.

The Senate Teapot Dome committee's record of Stewart's refusal to answer its questions was received by U. S. Attorney Peyton Gordon today.
Gordon said it would be submitted to the grand jury some time this week.

The Teapot Dome committee proceeded today with its efforts to trace the millions of the Continental deal. President H. L. Phillips of the Sinclair Crude Oil Company testified that George S. Taber, Jr., whom subpoena servers had been unable to locate, is in Pittsburgh today. Taber signed one of the mysterious contracts in the big oil deal of 1921.

Chairman Nye announced after the meeting that he had been notified service had been made on Taber and that he would be present tomorrow.

Ignorant of Oil Deal.

Phillips followed Sheldon Clark, vice-president of the Sinclair Refining Company, who said he knew nothing of the 1921 deal or the $3,000,000 in bonds which oil men secreted for some undetermined purpose in the mysterious Continental Trading Company of Canada.

Phillips described the Chicago meeting where the boards of Stewart's and Harry F. Sinclair's oil corporations ratified the unusual contracts.

"Both Stewart and Sinclair were present," said Phillips. "Some one made some sort of explanation of the contracts—I don't remember who.
The contracts then were approved."

to $100 by Fire Chief Claud Stults.

The fire department was called to the home of Frank C. Miller, 1014 North Mulberry street, at 8:45 o'clock this morning. A flue burned
out.

PLEDGE MORE HOTEL ROOMS

KANSAS CITY AGREES TO G. O. P.
CONVENTION DEMAND.

A CHANGE THREATENED

Proposal to Take Away Meet Hangs
Over Republican Committee When It Meets Thursday.

Washington, Feb. 6.—A threat of taking the Republican national convention away from Kansas City will be in reserve when the Kansas City committee meets here Thursday to discuss hotel accommodations and kindred convention questions.

The committee has told the arrangements committee that the western city will make good its promises to have sufficient accommodations, but the meeting Thursday results from a flood of complaints that these have not been forthcoming.

Republican authorities said today
the convention would be taken to Cleveland if Kansas City did not meet its promises but these authorities added that the Kansas City people were agreeing to "come through."

To Offer 1,000 More Rooms.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 6.—An additional thousand rooms in Kansas City will be placed at the disposal of the Republican national committee, according to Charles F. Curry, secretary of the Kansas City housing committee.

Reports have been spread in the East that the Republican convention was to be taken from Kansas City because of the lack of hotel facilities.

The national committee demanded
an addition 1,000 rooms when the Kansas City housing committee failed to send a list of the 4,000 rooms required by the national committee for al-lignment to those to be directly connected with the convention.

The national committee's requirements had been placed at from 3,000
to 5,300 rooms, and the national committee was to have been given first choice. The local committee is understood to have offered 3,000 rooms, and the national committee demurred.

Hilles Denies Threats.

New York, Feb. 6.—Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman,
said no threats had been made to remove the Republican national convention from Kansas City.

"I believe the convention will remain in Kansas City," Hilles said.
"We have made no threats to take the convention away from Kansas City nor do we intend to. We are confident that the representatives of Kansas City will make good. There has been no misrepresentation as to the capacity of the auditorium. It has seated 14, 000 but for a deliberate body the number of seats naturally would be cut down to 10,000."

Atlantic City Wants It.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 6.—An invitation to have the 1928 Republican national convention in Atlantic City, in event the convention is removed from Kansas City, has been forwarded to William H. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee. The invitation was sent by H. B. Richmond, chairman of the convention committee of the Atlantic City hotel men's association.

Butler Is Surprised.

Boston, Feb. 6.—William H. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, expressed surprise at reports that Kansas City might be replaced as the convention city for the G. O. P. convention.

"The committee is going ahead with its plans for convening in Kansas City," Butler said. "I can't imagine what would have caused these rumors."

"Certainly I have no knowledge of any move to shift the convention city and it is reasonable to suppose that any such movement should come up for my consideration before being acted upon."

Chicago Renews Campaign.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Reports from Washington and New York that Republican leaders were threatening to move the party's national convention
away from Kansas City led Chicago civic leaders today to renew the city's campaign for the convention.

Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, candidate for representative at large from Illinois, started the campaign, and other prominent Republicans here joined it.

San Francisco Busy Again.

San Francisco, Feb. 6.—San Francisco prepared today to renew its fight for the Republican national convention

this year in the event Kansas City
loses the gathering.

William H. Crocker, who directed the efforts of San Francisco to secure the convention last December, announced he will make every effort to have San Francisco selected if Kansas City is disqualified.

"San Francisco was the second choice of the delegates," Crocker said.
"We were only nosed out by three votes. I will fight against another poll being taken as the delegates to the national convention expressed their choice for second place."

Origin of Religion Discussed at Forum

Henry A. Foster began a discussion of the origin of religion at the luncheon meeting today of the Men's Monday Forum. He will continue his talk next week.

naird, members of the State Teachers' College faculty, were received as new members.

The Rev. J. Howard Thompson of
Hopkins, was a guest.

PACT SIGNED WITH FRANCE

U. S. ENTERS INTO TREATY OF ARBITRATION

FRIENDS SINCE 1778

New Document Commemorates Century and a Half of Uninterrupted Peace

Washington, Feb. 6.—A century and a half of uninterrupted peace between France and the United States was commemorated today when French Ambassador Claudel and Undersecretary of State, Robert E. Olds signed a Franco-American treaty of arbitration at the State Department.

President Coolidge sent the treaty
to the Senate today for ratification.

On February 6, 1778, Benjamin Franklin, Silas Deane, and Arthur Lee, on behalf of the thirteen United States of North America signed a treaty of amity and commerce with France. It was the first treaty entered into by the young republic of the new world.

Arbitration Provided

From that moment, France openly assisted the thirteen states in their war against Great Britain. Money, of which the new republic was in desperate need, flowed in a continuous stream from the treasury of Louis XVI to assist General George Washington and his men.

The treaty signed today advances the historical friendship to what is interpreted as a firmer footing, in that it provides for arbitration in the event of a dispute between the two countries.

Excepted from arbitration are disputes involving the Monroe Doctrine, matters of domestic affairs, and disputes involving third parties. State department officials refused to comment on published reports that French obligations under the League of Nations also are exempted.

Deprecate Resort to War

In the preamble of today's treaty,
France and the United States deprecate resort to war. The long friendship between the two countries is cited as placing war between them beyond contemplation. The treaty is one of two recently the subject of negotiation between Washington and Paris.
The other was the proposed anti-war
treaty suggested by foreign minister Briand, accepted with amendments by Secretary of State Kellogg and subsequently found impractical because Briand and Kellogg could not agree upon the scope of the instrument.

Hylan Believes That Smith May Not Run

Governor Would Stand Better Chance
in 1932, Is Opinion of New York's Former Mayor

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 6.—John F. Hylan, former mayor of New York, said here that Governor Al Smith of New York may not enter the coming presidential race despite
"Smith for president" agitation.

Hylan said he believed Smith could make a stronger race four years hence.
"Many Democratic leaders believe Smith would almost certainly be elected in 1932," Hylan said. "I believe Smith is now under considerable pressure to withdraw from this race."

WORLD COURT AGAIN ISSUE

SENATOR GILLETTE PROPOSES
NEW U. S. ATTEMPT.

ASK NICARAGUAN DATE

Two More Resolutions Are Introduced
Questioning American Intervention.

Washington, Feb. 6.—A resolution suggesting that the President reopen negotiations for United States membership in the Permanent Court of International Justice was introduced today
by Senator Gillette, Republican, Massachusetts, and laid on the table for future consideration.

Pointing out that the Senate has authorized United States participation in the court under certain conditions and that other powers have expressed a desire for such participation, the resolution suggests a renewed effort to adjust differences now halting membership by this country.

The United States has remained out of the World Court largely because of insistence by the Senate upon a reservation providing that the Court cannot render an advisory opinion affecting this country without its consent. Gillette said there seemed little chance that the Senate would modify this reservation, but he hoped the signatory powers might accept it if another move were made looking to participation.

Question Nicaragua Intervention.

Two resolutions, marking opening of the Senate fight against the administration's policy in Nicaragua, were introduced in the Senate.

Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations committee proposed the first,
asking information from the Secretary of Navy about marine activities and battles.

Senator King, Democrat, Utah, offered the second, requesting the Senate judiciary committee to investigate the authority of the President to carry on what he termed "belligerent operations" abroad without consent of Congress.

Senator Shortridge, Republican, California, blocked action on the Borah resolution and it went over to tomorrow.

King's resolution was referred to the judiciary committee for preliminary consideration.

Votes Against Outlawing War

The senate judiciary committee voted unanimously today to reject the Frazier resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to outlaw war.
The committee decided the proposal was not the proper method to prohibit war or secure peace. Its actions definitely kills the resolution.

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

CULVER WILL NOT ENTER RACE

Judge R. E. Culver of St. Joseph will not enter the race for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, he announced Saturday. Judge Culver says his inclination to make the race was based on inability to "convince myself that I am the individual who could lessen the breach between the Democratic factions in this state, and I have concluded that I ought not to get in the way of anyone who may feel that he can bring about that result."

The many friends of Judge Culver in Nodaway County will regret his decision not to enter the race. Charles M. Hays of St. Louis is the only avowed

Local Pastor Answers Queries

The theory of evolution does not contradict the Bible, Christ did perform miracles, and a man may be a Christian outside the church, according to answers which were given by the Rev. W. S. Woodhull in response to queries in the Question Box at the First Methodist Church last night.

The Reverend Mr. Woodhull had announced that he would attempt to answer any questions submitted to him. Among his answers were these:

"Does the evolution theory contradict the Bible?"

"No, since the two answer entirely different questions. The Bible tells Who made the world and all that is in it. The evolution theory simply seeks to describe the process by which all things, living or non-living, came to be what they are. It is an attempt to answer the question, 'How was the world made?' The evolution theory does not have anything to say concerning the primary cause and the continuing motive force of the process. It describes, The Bible does not attempt to describe the process by which God accomplished his purpose of creation."

"Did Christ perform miracles?"

"If miracles are considered as a work far beyond our human knowledge and power we would expect Jesus as a being equally beyond our classification to be able to perform them. When we think of our Lord's wisdom and character and continued and growing power in the world, we are not surprised to read that He did marvelous deeds. We would be surprised if He had not done them. The greatness of Jesus is not proved by the miracles. The truth of the miracles are proved by His greatness. His miracles were not wrought by the suspension of any natural law but by the counteraction of another power entirely according to natural law. Just as an airplane counteracts the pull of gravitation by the forward drive of the propeller, so Jesus applied to the leaves which were multiplied, to the water upon which he walked, to the diseases that he healed, another force in accordance with another law both of which are hidden from us. The miracles lay not in the deed but in the knowledge that he had.

It would be well to consider the peculiar characteristics of the miracles attributed to Jesus. None of them were wrought with display or with the apparent desire to make the worker conspicuous. Just a word or a touch and the deed was accomplished. They are written not as wonderful stories that needed to be bolstered up with proof but as the commonplaces of every day.

Besides, none of the miracles was ever done selfishly, not even for the advantage of his followers."

"Can a man be a Christian outside the Church?"

"Yes. But why in the name of all that is sensible and all that is fair should he want to stay out of the institution that officially represents Christ and that is carried on for the sole purpose of helping those who would follow Him, if he is really in earnest in his discipleship?"

A breakfast was served the educators on Thursday morning by the Missouri Book store, Friday morning by Christian College, and on Saturday morning by Stephens College. The annual banquet of the Association was held Friday evening.

Matters of business administration were discussed throughout the meeting. Speakers of note included Strickland Gilliland, humorist, who spoke on "North of the Ears," William McAndrew, former Chicago superintendent of schools, who spoke on, "The Man With the Folded Arms," Dr. Thomas Alexander and John Ruff.

One of the features of the association meeting was the dedication of the new association building on Saturday morning.

Mr. Ziegler has been retained for the third year as a member of the committee of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Its function is to pass upon reports of high schools.

Mr. Ziegler did not know of his election as one of the officers of the association until he arrived in Booneville. The election was held on Saturday morning while Mr. Ziegler was at a meeting of the board of control of the State Athletic Association, of which he is a member.

All of the educators returned yesterday. The party, driving through with Mr. Lamkin, was forced to remain in Odessa Saturday night due to a heavy fog which made driving unsafe.

Man Is Fined $20 on Drunkenness Charge

Wilson Claypool of Maryville was fined $20 and costs of $7 this morning in police court by Judge Joseph H. Sayler on a charge of drunkenness. He was placed under arrest by Officer Leo Atherton.

Judge Sayler fixed the maximum penalty, as it was Claypool's third offense. He was alleged to have become intoxicated on three bottles of vanilla extract.

Claypool paid the costs and a stay of execution on the payment of the fine was issued, returnable April 1. If the fine is not paid by that date, the defendant will be required to work out his fine on the city streets.

Thomas Clark Family Now in Visalia, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark and family, former residents of Maryville, —Mr. Clark was the owner of the Electric Theater—are now at Visalia, Cal. In a letter to the Democrat-Forum, Mr. Clark writes:

"We left Kansas City Monday morning, January 23, over the Southern route, through Joplin, Oklahoma City, Fort Worth, El Paso, Douglas, Phoenix, Yuma, Los Angeles and by the ridge route to Visalia, a distance of 2700 miles, in eight days, and had sunshine all the way. We found good spring weather and I have the spring fever now. Here in the valley with a temperature of 70 you can look to the mountains and see snow. As I feel now I wouldn't walk back if you would meet me half way. Made the whole trip without getting pinched."

St. Joseph Team Gives Undeclared Maryville Aggregation Hardest Game of the Season.

The Maryville Spoofhounds are still courting with "Miss Victory." The local high school basketball team overcame the attentions of two rivals last weekend and today were retaining their perfect record, having defeated Trenton, 40 to 18, on Friday night and disposed of Lafayette High of St. Joseph Saturday night, 22 to 12.

The two games ran the Maryville consecutive victories to eleven, without a defeat.

The Spoofhounds had to extend themselves Saturday night to overcome the clever players of Coach Murphy of the St. Joseph North End institution. The visitors held the Spoofhounds to a tie in the first half, playing a man to man defense which bothered the Maryville courtsters.

Both teams had difficulty in finding the basket in the first two periods, with the Spoofhounds unable to connect on easy set-ups. Lafayette opened the scoring soon after Sam Dubin tossed up the ball. Litz, Lafayette forward, netting a long shot. McMurry evened the score after the teams had battled for seven minutes and this concluded the scoring in the first quarter. Wilson, who went in for Price in the Maryville line-up, got the only Maryville field goal in the second quarter and Hadley kept the score tied by sending the ball true from the center of the court.

McMurry opened the Maryville offense soon after the third period started, with a free throw and a field basket, and then the Maryville eagles began to run up the score. Hadley of Lafayette meanwhile had counted one free throw. Leland Smith, on his fifth try from the free throw line made the goal, which was followed by a field basket by Wilson and Smith counted two free throws to end the third quarter 12 to 5 for Maryville.

Litz again caged a long shot when the final period started but Wilson began to make his short shots under the basket good. He put in two baskets, followed by a two-pointed by McMurry, who added a free throw. Dido, Lafayette guard, annexed a field basket from the center of the floor and Wilson made two free throws. Hadley counted again to make the score 21 to 11 for Maryville and McMurry got a free throw. Sanders ended the scoring with a gift shot.

For Lafayette, Litz and Hadley were the leaders of the offense. Most of their attempts were from long range. Litz played a fast game and worried the Maryville guards.

Maryville found Lafayette the toughest foe yet to appear on the local court this season.

The Spoofhounds play away from home this week. Tomorrow they will play a return game at Bethany.

Why We Do Not Quote Comparative Prices

About a year ago a prominent Arctic explorer brought his Eskimo guide back to New York. When Ikko returned to his native village he reported that they had lived in a huge igloo on the banks of the Hudson where they fished each day and caught enormous quantities of seals. To have told the whole truth would have shattered his reputation for veracity.

Often it is difficult for us, to refrain from talking too much about the amazing values our buying power makes possible, but even as Ikko, we value the good opinion of our neighbors. We prefer that our advertising underestimate the values we offer, rather than to tell the whole truth—when the truth has the outward semblance of a falsehood.

The Blazing Horizon

THE STORY THUS FAR

The story is laid in the Indian territory and along the Kansas border in the '80's, when a fight was being waged for the opening of Oklahoma to settlement. Chief characters are:

TONY HARRISON, orphaned at 13 when his father was shot in a poker game;

PAWNEE BILL, adventurer, teacher, Indian interpreter, showman;

JOE CRAIG, who takes Tony to the Bar K ranch to live;

TITUS MOORE, owner of the Bar K brand;

RITA, his daughter.

Moore is one of the chief opponents of the movement to open Oklahoma. DAVID PAYNE, leader of the movement, dies suddenly and Tony in his loyalty to Moore is troubled because of his sympathy for Payne's cause. He tries to forget Rita Moore, with whom he has fallen in love, and accompanies Pawnee Bill and BUFFALO BILL on a wild west show tour. After many adventures he returns; but Rita comes back for a visit and he is unable to keep from declaring his love for her. When she admits she is engaged to another, he disappears.

When Pawnee Bill organizes his own wild west show, Tony goes with it, but it fails and he and Tony go to Wichita to lead the movement for the opening of Oklahoma.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

He reviewed the odd chain of circumstances that had brought him to his present position. What, he asked himself, would Titus Moore and Joe Craig say if they knew he had allied himself with the forces against which Moore, his benefactor, had been contending for years?

A Boomer—word of anathema to Titus Moore! The man no doubt would think he had turned on him like an ungrateful dog.

"I couldn't blame him," Tony told himself, "if he accused me of biting the hand that fed me."

Two days before, he had written to Joe Craig, expressing his sorrow at Mrs. Moore's death and his complete sympathy for the colonel and Rita. About his plans or his whereabouts he had said nothing.

It hurt him more than ever, now that the tragedy of death had fallen on the Moore family, to think of the disgraceful spectacle he had made of himself before Rita eyes in Washington. The memory of it invariably evoked in him a mood of terrible self-chastisement in which the old resentment against Rita vanished in a flood of pity for her. For himself on these occasions he felt nothing but contempt, but underneath it remained a stinging bitterness, a heaving restlessness. He felt the need of some powerful, wrenching antidote.

"Perhaps it's here," he told himself, thinking of the thousands of homeless camping outside of Wichita and along the Kansas border; the thousands clamoring for land, lifting their eyes daily toward the invisible barrier that stretched between them and opportunity. Each week saw a few of them, poverty-stricken, disillusioned, embittered, turn dejectedly back toward the places they had left. Others remained hopeful; many, their resentment fanned into rebellion, were waiting for a sign, for a leader, to swarm in and resist to the death any move to expel them.

Tony Harrison knew them and understood them, from mingling with them in their camps at Caldwell and Wellington. There was ruff-ruff among them, true—crooks, petty thieves, and idlers who expected to find the mythical pot of gold at the rainbow's end; but in the main they were of the same pioneer stuff that had plodded westward over the Kansas plains in prairie wagons drawn by bull teams, when every few miles of the way had been contested by hostile Indians. Toward them all he felt compassionate.

Pawnee Bill found him in the hotel lobby toward midnight. "The first step has been taken," he announced. "The Pawnee Bill Oklahoma Colonization Company has been formed. There'll be branches, later, in other cities. Dues, two dollars to join and two dollars a year—but she'll be opened within a year, Tony, you can bet on that."

The younger man felt his enthusiasm. "And what are we to do—wait for it to open?"

"Force the government's hand, by God! This winter we'll be busy organizing, but before spring we go in—and stay."

"Resistance?"

"I hope it won't be necessary," he frowned. "If the troops—"

"It's a serious thing to resist the government with a show of force. It's rebellion. If the soldiers fire on us—"

Pawnee Bill chewed his lip thoughtfully. "But if they know we're ready to rebel—if they realize just how serious the situation is—they might do something. Bloodshed's bad business. Give me time, I'll have a plan."

"You can count on me in anything you do," Harrison grinned. "About our finances," he began. "I'm right on rock bottom."

"Don't worry, said Pawnee Bill and patted his hip pocket. "I'm in funds once more. I've already tried to have four horses shipped on. Right now I'm hungry. That banquet didn't do me a bit of good; I was worrying all through the meal about the speech I'd have to make."

The winter that ensued was one of cruel hardship on the Boomers encamped outside of several Kansas cities. In Wichita there were correspondents from many eastern newspapers, for the country at large was keenly interested in the Oklahoma fight; and these wired back stories of privation and hunger and suffering from the cold. In December and January many of the less hardy spirits climbed in the rickety wagons that carried all their provisions and turned back in defeat. Pawnee Bill did what he could to bolster up their flagging courage; he and Tony Harrison rode from town to town—Caldwell, Hannawell, Arkansas City—breathing messages of encouragement, calling on them to wait.

"But we're tired of waiting. We've waited four years."

"A few weeks; that's all. Maybe not that long. I'll be back again soon—with news. Be ready to move at a minute's notice."

Thus he went from camp to camp, saying optimistic things that he himself dared not believe—anything to keep up their morale. They believed in him, but what did more than anything else to sustain them was the influx of more homeseekers. These came by the hundreds, in schooner wagons, carts, on horseback, by train, and pitched camp along the border, breathing a hopeful ness that inspired those who had waited through the weary months and years.

The Pawnee Bill Oklahoma Colonization Company had branches in many cities, and as far west as Denver and east as Chicago there were Oklahoma colonies. Landsharks and confidence men saw their opportunity and in distant cities they preyed on the credulousness of the ignorant, assuring homeseekers for a small payment, promising everything and anything.

The Springer bill, described as "an act to organize the Territory of Oklahoma and for other purposes," was before Congress. If it passed—

"But I'm not too optimistic," Pawnee Bill told Tony Harrison. "If things go along as they have been, the cattlemen will lick it. It's about time to force their hand. All right; we'll line up on the border, and we'll send out word that we're going in and that if they try to put us out we'll drag the cattlemen out with us—rip down their fences, run off their herds, anything."

Tony shuddered. Open warfare on Titus Moore at last, he thought. But he nodded assent. "I said I'd stick with you," he said, his face strangely white.

From Wichita the wagons moved southward to come to a halt on the border of the Cherokee Strip, that ribbon of land between Kansas and Oklahoma, the Promised Land. Encouragement, defiance, hope—these were in the battle cries that accompanied the creaking of wagon wheels, the stumblings of horses, the cursing of men as they urged them forward, forward.

At the edge of the Strip they camped. All along the border there stretched an unbroken line of wagons and tents. They waited for the word to send them forward, waited grimly, defiantly. South of them they could see the blue uniforms of United States cavalry, doubtless waiting to contest their entry, and many shook their fists at the soldiery and cursed, while the more timid stared and wondered and thought of their women and children.

Thus they waited, while Pawnee Bill and Tony Harrison moved among them and tried to answer the thousands of questions hurled at them. Word came that the cattlemen intended to contest the crossing of the Strip.

"Bluff," Pawnee Bill said to Tony. "They're worried about what's going to happen to their ranches if this bunch turns loose, bent on destruction. I'm waiting for word from Washington. If it isn't what I'm hoping it will be, we move in within a week."

They sat their horses at the edge of the Boomer camp just south of Arkansas City. The older man's gaze swept along the line of wagons that stretched as far as the eye could see. "Just straining to go," he said. "Nothing can hold them back much longer."

"There are hundreds in Oklahoma right now, Bill. These people know it."

"I know—Sooners. Hiding out and waiting for the opening so they won't have to make the race." He swore softly. "We've done all we could to stop it, but some people can't play in any game without cheating. . . . Those two refined looking gents you see coming toward us are in the pay of the cattlemen."

He added in the direction of two horsemen, rough looking men, one with heavy jaws, the other with a patch over his right eye.

"Howdy," he said easily as they approached. "Come to look us over?"

OUT OUR WAY.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.

They paid no heed to his question. The man with the patch said, with a sneer. "Think you'll try to cross the Strip? You know what will happen, don't you?"

"Why, no; I don't know. I'd been doing some thinking, though. Can you tell me?"

"I'd like to know myself," remarked Tony, ranging closed to Pawnee Bill. These were gunmen undoubtedly, he was thinking, and capable of anything—even murder in broad daylight.

Pawnee Bill fumes a couple of bad men. In the next installment.

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications.

1.03 Inches of Rain Up to This Morning

Temperature Saturday 61 Degrees but Not a Record, J. R. Brink Reports.

One and three-hundredths inches of rain had fallen in the last twenty-four hours, J. R. Brink, official weather observer, reported at 8 o'clock this morning. He also stated that the mercury rose to a maximum temperature of 61 degrees Saturday but that this did not set a record nor did the rainfall establish a new mark for February, as in 1898, 1.91 inches of rain fell.

Rain was still falling this morning. Rain in Kansas City, Too.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 6.—An unsettled condition that had prevailed in Kansas City for the past two days culminated this morning in a heavy rain.

Rain to Continue.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 6.—Rain and unsettled weather will continue to prevail in the southwest tonight and tomorrow, it was predicted by weather bureau officials here today.

Moisture was general over Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and as far south as Texas, the report here showed, and it was indicated it will be midday Tuesday before the sky clears.

The temperature tonight was expected to fall below freezing in Missouri and Kansas. It was believed probable that the rain will turn to snow before morning.

The moisture was said to be a boon to wheat farmers, who found little encouragement in the "record dry" of January.

Coon Hunting Season Ended With January

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 6.—The open season for coon hunting closed at midnight Jan. 31. December and January are the only months open for hunting or trapping the fur-bearing animals, and the state game and fish department plans a rigid enforcement of the law.

County Court Meets; Delayed in Starting

The county court met today at the courthouse for its regular February session. Judge Charles Armstrong, of near Barnard, did not arrive here until noon, as he was forced to make the trip by train.

No business was transacted this morning and the court went over the hills this afternoon. The judges expect to make a semi-annual settlement with Mrs. Bess C. Thorp, county treasurer, tomorrow.

The appointive officers will be named before the court adjourns.

Are Investigating Accidental Shooting

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 6.—The accidental shooting of Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Boyle, 27, by Lehann Burri, 28, former inmate of the state hospital for the insane, was being investigated here today.

Burri is said to have accidentally shot Boyle when he fired at the proprietor of a soft drink parlor who was said to have been responsible for getting Burri's younger brother drunk.

The charge struck Boyle and wounded him, perhaps fatally.

MIXED CROWD IN HAITI TO GREET LINDY

Plier to Be Given Decoration Never Before Bestowed Upon A White Man.

Port au Prince, Haiti, Feb. 6.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed at the United States marine flying field here at 1:51 p. m. today—his last intermediate stopping place on his good will tour toward the Pan-American conference at Havana.

A frenzied enthusiastic crowd, the most incongruous of his long flight, awaited the flier.

American marines, in occupation here, mingled with officials and wandering natives from the interior—some of them from districts where the dread secret voodoo magic is not only believed in, but practiced.

The landing was made at a field named after an American marine, Bourne field.

Testimony of the admiration in which the boyish aerial ambassador is held was furnished by the announcement that the street along which Lindbergh was conducted to the heart of the city has been named Avenue Charles Lindbergh.

A special issue of postage stamps bearing Lindbergh's portrait was to appear.

All streets in the city were decorated in honor of the impending arrival, indications were that Lindbergh's reception would be the greatest ever accorded a foreigner.

President Borho will decorate Lindbergh with the highest award in his power—the order of merit. Lindbergh is the first white man to be awarded the decoration.

The Burlington Junction High School basketball team won the Clearmont invitation tournament Saturday by defeating the renowned Pickering quintet, 17 to 11, in the final game of the championship flight. Skidmore won the consolation flight by defeating Elmo, 22 to 12.

Burlington-Pickering tilt was the fastest of the tournament, with the teams playing on an even basis during the first quarter, but with Burlington Junction showing a little more consistency in finding the basket in the second period. The half ended with the Junction leads leading by five points.

Pickering staged a rally in the early minutes of the third quarter and drew within two points of Burlington. However, the four Plummers and Manes set such a pace that the Pickering boys, who had played one more game than Burlington Junction were left trailing by six points when the final whistle sounded.

All the Burlington eagers scored from the field. The speedy floor work and shooting of Bruce Rickard, guard, kept up the Pickering fight.

The defeat of Elmo by Skidmore in the semi-finals was somewhat of an upset. The Skidmore boys flashed their best brand of basketball of the year in this game, and were led by M. Schiller in trouncing the Elmo aggregation.

Trophies Awarded.

The tournament was sponsored by the Clearmont High School. Trophies were awarded by the school to the winners of both flights. Virgil Zook of Clearmont and Raymond Houston of Pickering officiated.

In the semi-finals, Pickering defeated Sheridan, 37 to 19. Sheridan gave the Pickering five a close game during the first half but in the last two periods the winners outplayed the Sheridan team to win by a decisive margin.

Burlington Junction eliminated Clearmont from the tournament in the semi-final by a score of 37 to 17. It was the first game of the tournament for the Junction boys, who had drawn a bye in the first round, and the second string Burlington team was used in the second half of the game.

Elmo defeated the Teachers College high school in the first round of the consolation, 22 to 15, reversing the tables on the College presters, who had defeated Elmo the night before in the College gymnasium. Skidmore drew a bye in the first round of the consolation flight and played Elmo in the consolation finals.

In the first round games Pickering defeated Elmo 33 to 15; Sheridan eliminated Skidmore 23 to 18 and the College High was defeated by Clearmont, 42 to 19.
